A DAY AT THE
DISCOVERY CENTRE
CASTLEHILL

SATURDAY
22ND OCTOBER 10AM
Approx. FINISH 1.30PM

Lunch provided

After months of negotiations the Discovery Centre (Powerhouse Museum storage facility at Castle Hill) has agreed to remove the shackles from some of our Nation's most important pieces of furniture and bring them down from high pallet racking to eye level and viewed close up.

We know in NSW the focus on our Colonial past is currently in abeyance so this is a rare opportunity to readily view Australiana items currently inaccessible.

There will be an opportunity to explore other items currently on display.

We will be led by staff at the Discovery Centre and we also thank fellow member, Ian Thomson, French polisher, artisan and furniture restorer, who will discuss important features of each piece of furniture.

We are hoping for this day to become an annual event.

Free parking in the grounds, public transport close by.

Please book via Eventbrite and click on the tab below or please contact me for alternative payment methods.

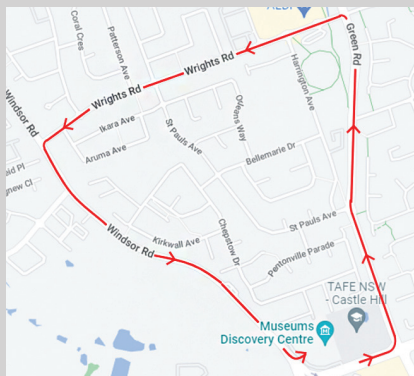

Places are limited.

Cost:
$60
per person
(including lunch)
